

GODMOTHERS SUSTAIN
ROLE OF SALESWOMEN

"Sacrifice Sale" Opens Today
on Market Street—Attractive Window Display.

With window-cases showing an assortment of chapeaux, built upon chic models, another devoted to ceramics, and interior cupboards, shelves and counters, laden with all manner of bric-a-brac, haberdashery, hats and frocks, the Godmothers association made their bow in the mercantile field this morning as full-fledged shopkeepers.

That the period of commercial activity extends over a stretch of only two days bodes nothing against the enterprise. Much of interest is expected to be concentrated therein, by way of liberal patronage, for the merchandise they are offering are at ridiculously low prices.

Donations to the worthy cause of financially assisting the Godmothers in this, their first "sacrifice sale," have been quite liberal, and of good quality. In addition to a window full of hats, there are several large cases of them, the hats being the gift of a local milliner. A rack of good-looking gowns is also shown. What is perhaps the most engaging, is a shelf of "trinkets" appealing to all varieties of tastes. A number of leather-covered calendars, note-books, fancy baskets and mantel ornaments are arranged on display. In a show window opposite that of the millinery is a set of china, cut glass vases, Japanese walters, silver basket and a collection of flat silver.

The Godmothers are desirous of still greater number of donations for Saturday's sale.

The "sacrifice sale" is held at 502 Market street, adjoining the Palace. The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to a number of lines of war-work recently undertaken by the young ladies.

Miss Margaret Ochs, president, is assisted by the chairmen of committees, in part as follows:

Miss Catherine Phillips and Miss Emma Sue Smartt, collections.
Miss Mary Swann, sales.
Miss Gene Riddle, refreshments.
Mrs. Fred Rucker, price lists.

YOUNG MUSICIAN CHARMS AUDIENCE AT ARMY POST
Harold Carlin, of New York,
Pianist and Composer, Appears on Program.

Y 20 at Camp Forrest was the scene of a delightful entertainment Thursday night, when Pastor Hill, of the First Christian church, assisted by his committee, gave a program of musical numbers, readings and addresses. The church has charge of Y 20.

Mrs. C. E. Kirkpatrick was in charge of the program, which, including an address by Pastor Hill, was given by the Misses Anita George, Mary Louise Beckham and Private Harold Carlin. The latter is a recent "discovery" among musicians of the city, being found to be a young man of rare musical ability as pianist and composer. He played a number of classical compositions Thursday night and accompanied the singing of Miss Anita George. His work received much enthusiastic applause.

Miss George sang, by request, her original vocal composition, "Howdy." This song has found much favor wherever rendered. Miss Beckham was heard in several numbers which were listened to attentively. One of them was entitled "A School Reading," which was especially enjoyed by the soldiers.

A large-sized crowd was present. The programs are given every other week.

The talk of Pastor Hill was much enjoyed, as was also the concerted singing of hymns and patriotic songs.

Don't Dodge These Cuffs

(By Betty Brown.)

Long sleeves are in unusual favor this season, which fact attaches especial importance to the cuff. The beauty of a woman's hand is often made or marred by the fit and freshness of the cuff from which it emerges. Here are sketched three of the newest cuff concoits of the season. At the top a close-fitting sleeve of organdie suddenly flares into a wide, wide bag-cuff coarse stitched with bright silk. In the center is the popular tier-cuff of cross-hatched colored organdie with the irresistible frill. At the bottom is a clever creation of chiffon and small buttons.

Printed cotton voiles in dark shades are as popular as foulard itself, have much the same effect, and in addition are inexpensive and not averse to tubings. Simply cut, with organdie cuffs and collars, and worn with black patent leather belts, they are listed high in fashion's summer Blue Book.

FREDERICKSON-MORGAN WEDDING AT SIX O'CLOCK

Lieut. G. Fredrickson, M. I. C., Camp Greentown, will be married at 6 o'clock this afternoon to Miss Margaret L. Morgan, of Iron Mountain, Mich., at the home of Mrs. Aggie G. Carlin on Bailey avenue, Dr. T. S. McCallie officiating.

HUNDRED-DOLLAR DEBT ON CHURCH PAID BY WOMEN

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Highland Park Methodist church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. Becker.

Mite boxes, which were distributed among the members several weeks ago, were opened. Over $100 was realized and will be used in paying off the last debt of the church. Plans were formulated for an entertainment to be given for the benefit of the Red Cross. At the close of the program refreshments were served.

MESDAMES THOMAS AND BEASLEY TO ENTERTAIN

Mrs. John B. Thomas and Mrs. Velma Beasley will entertain with a spend-the-day party Wednesday at their summer home on Signal mountain in honor of the members of the U. C. T. auxiliary. The members are asked to bring their Red Cross work.

MRS. HOWE ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON THURSDAY

Mrs. E. Howe entertained at luncheon Thursday at her home on Baldwin street. A salad sandwich and ice course was served.

Covers were laid for Misses Irma and Mary Payne, Mrs. Cora Gibson Plunkett, Mrs. W. R. Senter, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. H. H. Hoids, Mrs. McCool and Mrs. D. S. Howe.

"THE MODERN MOTHER GOOSE" AT JUNIOR HIGH TONIGHT

Friday evening at Junior High school "The Modern Mother Goose" will be shown on the screen. This promises to be one of the most pleasing pictures for children shown in the movie world. Miss Willie Rae Kelso will give a special musical program during the evening.

EX-HUSBAND WANTS CHILDREN SO HE CAN ESCAPE DRAFT, CHARGES MOTHER

Pitiful Story of Deprivation and Cruelty—Father Buried Dead Baby in Corner of Lot "Like Dog," Details Sobbing Woman—Says
Second Marriage is Valid and That Former Husband
Didn't Want Children Until Draft Threatened.

Embryo murder and continued cruelty is the defense Marie Rider, wife of C. H. Rider, 9 Bennett avenue, offers against the chancery action of her former husband, William H. Burton, who seeks to recover two of Mrs. Rider's children, of whom he is the father.

The bill in chancery alleges that C. H. Rider is living in adultery with Mrs. Burton, alias Marie Rider; that the couple are detaining Burton's children from him in order that Rider can escape the draft law by claiming the children as dependents.

Mrs. Rider denies this absolutely. She says that she married C. H. Rider in Rossville about three years ago, when her husband (Burton) deserted her and then obtained a divorce from her. She further alleges that Burton is seeking to recover the children in order to escape conscription himself.

"Burton is doing this to keep out of the army draft himself," said Mrs. Rider, when interviewed. "It is not Charlie (Mrs. Rider's second husband) who is trying to keep out of the draft."

"If he was so anxious to have these children, why hasn't he been anxious all these years when Charlie and I have been supporting them?"

"When I left him about three years ago, I told him he could come to see his children as long as I lived. After I married Mr. Rider, he still comes. One Sunday not long ago he and him and Charlie (Mr. Rider) were sitting out on our back porch. We were talking about the draft. Burton said to Charlie:

"Who Supported Children?"

"Charlie, there is no danger of your having to go to the army, but I may. If it comes up, will you swear I have been supporting my children all this time?"

"Charlie said: 'No, if I have to go to the army I'll go like a man, and I won't swear no lies about it. If anybody asks me I'll tell them everything you bought for them.'"

When asked just how much Burton had bought for the children, Mrs. Rider said:

"Since last March, when he began to 'get scared of the draft, he has bought a boy Robert (she touched a 6-year-old boy's low head) two pairs of pants, three waists, a pair of shoes, one or two pairs of stockings, and for the girl, Magnolia, two dresses, a hat, a pair of shoes, two pairs of stockings, five yards of bleaching and eleven yards of domestic to make her some gowns. Now, that is all, and Charlie has bought all the rest."

Too Bad to Tell.

In answer to the question of how she came to leave Burton when she was married to him, Mrs. Rider studied for a long time, then her lips began to quiver, and she said it was so bad she couldn't tell it.

Mrs. Rider is a small, weary-looking woman, with a broad forehead, pathetic, sad eyes and a tapering chin. After a little persuasion, she admitted that she was married to Burton nine or ten years ago against her father's wishes.

"But I hadn't lived with him for a week before I wanted away," she went on. "I went to my daddy and begged him to take me back, but he said, no, he hadn't married me off and he would not take me back."

"Burton," went on Mrs. Rider, "did not provide anything hardy. We lived

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS ARE DOING GOOD WORK

Among Soldiers at Camp Greenleaf—Miss Margaret Shal-liday Takes Active Part.

A great deal of pleasure and profit to the soldiers at Camp Greenleaf has been afforded during the summer by a committee from the Chattanooga Christian Endeavor union of ten local churches, headed by I. E. Ireland, the well-known young insurance man of this city. Miss Katherine Pierce, the resident deaconess of the First Presbyterian church, led the meeting last night, which was preceded by a song service with the boys in khaki, with Mr. Ireland as song leader.

Miss Margaret Shallday sang two beautiful numbers as only she can sing them. This will be the last meeting under the leadership of Mr. Ireland, as he expects to sail for France in the Y. M. C. A. work about Aug. 1. The meetings will, however, be continued.

All Chattanooga Endeavorers are urged to attend these meetings, which are held at the different Y. M. C. A. huts throughout the camp, on each Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, until further notice.
